

2 WOMEN ARMY OFFICERS JUMP INTO RAID DE HIMALAYA FRAY

SHIMLA: The Indian Army talks of women empowerment and it seems they are walking the talk.

Two women officers of the Indian Army will compete in the 20th edition of the Raid de Himalaya.

The event, which will take off on Wednesday from Kargil, will see more than 200 competitors who will race to Sankoo, the bowl-shaped valley known as Ladhak's Gulmarg.

Major K Renuka and Captain Prabhakaran Santheni will ride the Royal Enfield Himalayan at the Raid, in the Moto Adventure category.

HTC